

Hey Not Rocket Science Family! Here is your June client newsletter!

July 4th

Looking ahead to next month, Independence Day is on a Thursday. For that week, we will assume everyone doing trivia on Thursdays is canceled. If you are a Thursday location and wish to NOT cancel that week, please email me ahead of time so I can ensure you have a host that night.

We will assume that all non-Thursday locations will proceed normally that week. If you are a non-Thursday location who needs to cancel that week, please let me know ASAP so I can tell your host.

Zach and Alex

Our sales team, Zach and Alex, will both be traveling a lot over the next two months. This includes out-of-the-country trips for both of them where they will not have normal cell service.

I understand some of you still contact one of them with questions/ requests. We ask that you please direct those inquiries to me. My job is to be your account manager, so I am fully equipped to handle anything you need. My contact info is listed below:
